- Fairness
- Accessibility
- Transparency
- Responsiveness
- Efficiency
- Integration into organisational culture

5.2 Making a complaint

People making complaints will be provided with information about the complaint handling process and how to access it.

Complaints may be submitted in the following ways.

By post to:
Quality, Risk and Compliance Officer
Concern Australia
PO Box 1040
ROBINSON
VIC 3019

By phone: 03 9470 2972

By email: feedback@concernaustralia.org.au

Through our website: www.concernaustralia.org.au

We accept anonymous complaints.

There is no charge for making a complaint.

5.3 Assistance in making a complaint

People may be assisted in making a complaint. Workers should be ready to explain the complaint process to clients who have difficulty understanding written information.

People who wish to make a complaint may ask another person to assist them or represent them in the making and/or resolution of their complaint. This may include a guardian, advocate, interpreter, family member, friend, legal or community representative, member of Parliament or another organisation. That person's authority to act for the person making the complaint should be provided in writing.

5.4 Prioritisation of complaints

We will resolve complaints at first contact, where possible. If a matter concerns an immediate risk to safety or security the response will be immediate and will be escalated appropriately.

If complaints are unable to be resolved immediately, we will assess and investigate complaints in accordance with the urgency and/or seriousness of the issue raised and allocate clear responsibility for dealing with the complaint.

5.5 Responding to a complaint

We will acknowledge receipt of complaints within two working days and provide information about the complaints process, including expected timeframes.

We will ask complainants for their preferred method of communication.

We will address each complaint with integrity and in an equitable, objective and unbiased manner.

We will protect the identity of people making complaints where this is practical and appropriate. Personal information that identifies individuals will only be disclosed or used by us as permitted under the relevant privacy laws and confidentiality obligations.

We will take all reasonable steps to ensure that people making complaints are not adversely affected because a complaint has been made by them, or on their behalf.

5.6 Integrity of complaints handling process

We will ensure that the person handling a complaint is different from any staff member whose conduct or service is being complained about.

Conflict of interest, whether actual or perceived, will be managed responsibly. In particular, any internal review of how a complaint was managed will be conducted by a person other than the original decision maker.

5.7 Communication

We will assign an organisational representative who will keep complainants informed of the progress of the complaint and any reasons for delay.

The organisational representative will acknowledge receipt of the complaint within 2 business days, explaining the steps to be taken in resolving the complaint.

If we are unable to deal with any part of a complaint, we will advise people as soon as this becomes apparent and provide advice about where such issues and/or complaints may be directed (if known and appropriate).

When we are unable to meet our time frames for responding to their complaint, we will advise people as soon as this becomes apparent, and communicate the reason for our delay.

Following consideration and/or investigation of the complaint, we will communicate:

- The outcome of the complaint and any action we took
- The reason(s) for our decision
- The remedy or resolution(s) that we have proposed or put in place
- Options for internal or external review.

within two working days of finalising the response.

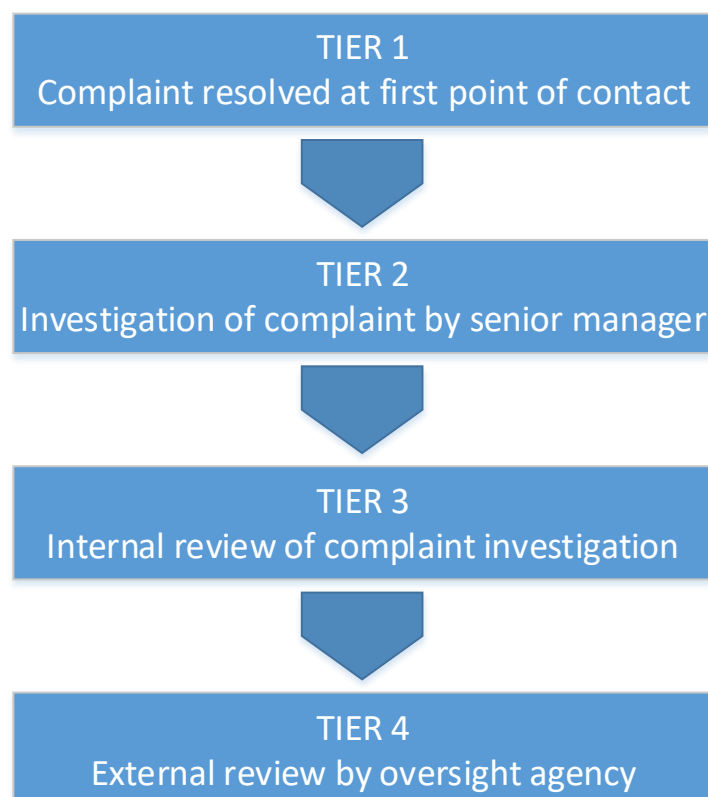

5.8 Recording and monitoring

We will maintain records of complaints and outcomes which will be reported to the CEO/Executive Team and the Board. We will continually monitor our complaint management system to ensure its effectiveness in responding to and resolving complaints.
