

BEING A ROLE MODEL

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

RECOMMENDED for YEAR 6 STUDENTS

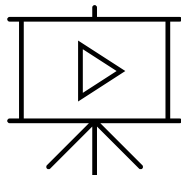

BEING A ROLE MODEL is a seminar designed to move students through an active process that will reveal their unique leadership capabilities. This seminar creates a safe and productive environment for students to explore their unique skills and how this affects their leadership. The major theme explores the student's personal strengths, abilities and styles and how they can use these to improve/impact upon others. The process is interactive and engaging, through the use of visual, auditory, self-reflective and movement mechanisms to demonstrate effective learning styles.

The seminar equips students by:

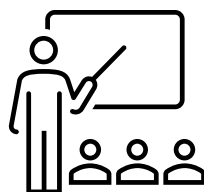

- understanding the link between knowing who they are and having confident leadership
- increasing awareness of who they are as individuals and their diversity
- understanding of the broad concept of multiple intelligences and learning styles
- identifying which of the intelligences and styles they have a preference towards
- developing awareness of difference and capacity of the "inter" and "intra" personal skills
- understanding that everyone is capable of leading
- developing a practical understanding of their leadership
